

WCA Council Members

Bill T. Arnold is an ordained elder in the Kentucky Conference of The United Methodist Church. He is professor of Old Testament studies at Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Kentucky. Bill has been a delegate to three General Conferences and is the author of numerous books including Introduction to the Old Testament (Cambridge University Press) and Seeing Black & White in a Gray World (Seedbed).

Ryan Barnett is senior minister of First United Methodist Church of Kerrville, Texas. He is an ordained elder in the Rio Texas Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church and holds an MBA from Texas A&M, Corpus Christi. He is a founder of Rwanda Shines, and serves on the board of directors of Habitat for Humanity of Kerr County. Prior to his current appointment, he was the teaching pastor at University United Methodist Church in San Antonio.

Shane L. Bishop is the senior pastor of Christ United Methodist Church in Fairview Heights, Illinois. He has represented the Illinois Great Rivers Conference at General Conference three times and Jurisdictional Conference four times. Shane has been named a Distinguished Evangelist by Foundation for Evangelism and is the author of Exactly As I Remember and Re:member.

Keith Boyette is the founding pastor of Wilderness Community Church in Spotsylvania, Virginia. Prior to becoming a clergy member of the Virginia Annual Conference, he was a practicing attorney. From 2000 to 2008, Keith served on the Judicial Council of The United Methodist Church. He was a delegate to the 2016 Southeast Jurisdictional Conference.

Madeline Carrasco Henners is pastor of First United Methodist Church, Luling, Texas. She is an ordained elder of The United Methodist Church in the Rio Texas Annual Conference. Madeline is a graduate of The Divinity School at Duke University and served four years with the General Board of Discipleship's Division on Young People's Ministry. She is currently working toward a D.Min. at United Theological Seminary.

Bryan Collier is the founding senior pastor of The Orchard, a multi-site United Methodist Congregation, in Tupelo, Mississippi. He is an adjunct professor of church planting at Asbury Theological Seminary and the author of Becoming an Orchard (Xulon Press) and The Go-To Church (Abingdon).

Ferrell Coppedge is the lay leader of Mt. Bethel United Methodist Church in Marietta, Georgia, and serves as an executive vice president with Regions Bank in Atlanta. He is co-founder and chairman of Project 82 Kenya Inc., an orphan and baby rescue ministry. Ferrell is also a member of the board of directors of International Leadership Institute.

Jennifer Cowart is the executive pastor at Harvest Church, a United Methodist congregation in Warner Robins, Georgia. She co-preaches and directs Discipleship and Emerging Ministries at Harvest, a church that she and her husband Jim launched in 2001. Jennifer is co-author with Jim of Start This Stop That; Grab, Gather, and Grow; Living the Five; and soon to be released Hand Me Downs.

Joe DiPaolo is the senior pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Lancaster, Pennsylvania. He has represented the Eastern Pennsylvania Annual Conference at the last six Northeast Jurisdictional Conferences. DiPaolo serves on the Board of Trustees of Evangelical Theological Seminary (ETS) in Myerstown, Pennsylvania, and he has taught as an adjunct professor both at ETS and at Palmer Seminary in Philadelphia.

Jeff Greenway is senior pastor of Reynoldsburg United Methodist Church near Columbus, Ohio. Prior to his current appointment, he served as a seminary president, a district superintendent, and a local pastor. In addition to being a General Conference delegate, Jeff is one of the leaders of the Evangelical Fellowship of the West Ohio Annual Conference.

Jeff Jernigan is a lay member of McEachern Memorial United Methodist Church in Powder Springs, Georgia. He serves as the leader of the North Georgia Conference Missions/Global Ministries team. In addition, he serves on the faculty for the International Leadership Institute. Jeff is an executive in the commercial construction industry and has represented the North Georgia Annual Conference as a delegate to General Conference.

Randy Jessen is the senior pastor of Parker United Methodist Church in Parker, Colorado. He is the former head of the Beeson International Center and the co-founder – with his wife Sue – of Global Hope, a ministry to abandoned and orphaned children in Romania, Kenya, and India.

Jessica LaGrone is dean of the chapel at Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Kentucky. An acclaimed pastor, teacher, and writer, she was a delegate to the South Central Jurisdictional Conference. Jessica's books and studies include Namesake: When God Rewrites Your Story and Broken and Blessed: How God Used One Imperfect Family to Change the World.

Thomas Lambrecht is the vice president and general manager of Good News. He is an elder in The United Methodist Church in the Wisconsin Annual Conference and served in pastoral ministry for 29 years before his current appointment. Tom is also the coordinator for the Renewal and Reform Coalition General Conference effort.

Carolyn Moore is the founding pastor of Mosaic United Methodist Church outside of Augusta, Georgia. She is an ordained elder in The United Methodist Church in the North Georgia Annual Conference. Carolyn is the author of Encounter Jesus, Encounter the Father, and Encounter the Spirit (Seedbed).

Joy J. Moore is assistant professor of preaching at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, California, and academic liaison to the William E. Pannell Center for African American Church Studies. She is an ordained elder in the West Michigan Annual Conference. Moore has served the United Methodist Church at the General, Jurisdictional, and Annual Conference level. A John Wesley Fellow, she has taught and served in administration at Adrian College, Asbury Theological Seminary, and Duke Divinity School.

Cara Nicklas is an attorney in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. The Nicklas family is actively involved at St. Luke's United Methodist Church where Cara serves in various leadership and teaching capacities. She represented the Oklahoma Annual Conference at the 2016 General Conference. Cara also serves as a volunteer with Oklahoma Lawyers for Children and is a board member for the Oklahoma Methodist Foundation.

Rob Renfro is pastor of discipleship at The Woodlands United Methodist Church outside Houston, Texas. He is an ordained elder in the Texas Annual Conference. He is the leader of the popular men's Bible study Quest, attended by over 500 men, and the author of both The Trouble with the Truth and A Way Through the Wilderness (Abingdon). Rob is the president and publisher of Good News and was a delegate to the South Central Jurisdictional Conference.

Chris Ritter is directing pastor of a multi-site ministry in Illinois that includes Geneseo First United Methodist Church, Cambridge UM Church, and Roots QC (a new church start in Rock Island). He represented the Illinois Great Rivers

Annual Conference at the 2016 General Conference and is the author of Seven Things John Wesley Expected Us to Do for Kids (Abingdon).

Maggie Ulmer is a United Methodist layperson and serves on the board of directors of the Evangelical Fellowship of West Ohio. As the spouse of a United Methodist pastor, she has been involved in the life of the local church through teaching and leading small groups, as well as being active with the United Methodist Scholars for Christian Orthodoxy. Her professional background is in editing and creative collaboration with writers and establishing non-profit arts entities.

David Watson is academic dean and associate professor of New Testament at United Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio. He is an ordained elder in the West Ohio Annual Conference and the author of Honor Among Christians: The Cultural Key to the Messianic Secret, co-author of Key United Methodist Beliefs, and co-editor of Wesley, Wesleyans, and Reading Bible as Scripture.

Steve Wood is the senior pastor of Mount Pisgah United Methodist Church in Johns Creek, Georgia, outside Atlanta. He serves on the General Council on Finance and Administration of The United Methodist Church and represented the North Georgia Conference at the last three General Conferences. Steve serves on the board of The Confessing Movement and is active in the Northwest Georgia Walk to Emmaus.